Dear friends,

I am writing as a head project of John Paul Secondary school, on behalf of my fellow students and my own, to thank you for your willingness to raise funds for our education. You cannot imagine how much good you are doing by giving us the opportunity to get good education. Many of our parents and guardians are not able to provide us with tuition fees and scholastic materials.

Your assistance is, therefore, most welcome and enables many of us to meet the necessities for our education. For me and fellow students, education is enlightenment and a stepping-stone for the future.

Importantly, when you help especially the girls, you are lifting a burden off our shoulders. You have also given us an opportunity to study as boys.

Once again, I thank you, our return gift to you is our humble prayers for your health and happiness. We also pray for your success in school, many books are easier for you but we find them difficult. God bless you all.

Your sincerely,
Tino Florence
